I. OVERVIEWColorado Office of Economic Development and International Trade

The Colorado Office of Economic Development and International Trade (OEDIT) works with statewide partners to create a positive business climate that encourages dynamic economic development and sustainable job growth. Under the leadership of Governor John Hickenlooper, we strive to advance the state's economy through financial and technical assistance in support of local and regional economic development activities throughout Colorado. This award is presented in partnership between OEDIT and LiveWell HEAL Cities & Towns.

OEDIT HEALTH AND WELLNESS DEFINITION:

OEDIT defines health and wellness as comprehensive and inclusive circle of well-being including: mental, spiritual, emotional, social, environmental, financial and physical aspects. OEDIT recognizes for a community to thrive it is essential to nourish and cultivate human energy and support the wellness of their residents in all dimensions, and ultimately enhance their quality of life.

II. GOVERNOR'S HEALTHY COMMUNITY AWARD:

The Governor's Healthy Community Award will honor a community actively pursuing efforts toward community wellness while simultaneously impacting economic vitality. The award will provide increased visibility of the winner's efforts statewide potentially leading to further economic benefit.

OEDIT is partnering with LiveWell Colorado's HEAL Cities & Towns Campaign to elevate its vision that all Coloradans live in environments with equitable access to the nourishing food and physical activity they need to be healthy. The HEAL Cities & Towns Campaign assists municipal leaders to adopt policies that increase access to healthy food, active living and healthy workplaces. It has expanded to 53 municipalities across Colorado and is continuously growing.

Benefits of the Award:

1. Governor's Proclamation awarding healthiest state presented at LiveWell HEAL Summit
2. Press release from the Governor's office sent out to media outlets statewide
3. Feature story on OEDIT's website (choosecolorado.com) and social media channels.

III. ELIGIBILITY

- The Governor's Healthy Community award is available to all communities. If your community is designated as a district, township, town, city or county the application process is available to your community.
- If your community would like to apply for the award and is not already a HEAL Cities & Towns Campaign, it is highly encouraged to join to continuously benefit your community and an elevated score will be given to any municipality not already in the Campaign that pledges to join before the end of the year.

What does it mean to join the HEAL Campaign?

To join the Campaign, a community must adopt a resolution with at least one specific policy goal that aims to increase opportunities for healthy eating and active living. For assistance developing a HEAL Resolution for your community, contact Julie George at juliegeorge@livewellcolorado.org or 720-573-3628.

Once a municipality joins the campaign, free technical assistance on policy work regarding access to healthy food, active living and a healthy workplace is provided. Technical assistance can include reviewing a policy, finding sample policies, connecting with other municipalities that have tackled the same/similar issues, surveys written for the town, and more. Refer to APPENDIX C – HEAL POLICY MENU for additional information.

IV. APPLICATION CRITERIA & REVIEW:

The Governor's Healthy Community award will evaluate various components to sustaining and managing a healthy community including: healthy policies, healthy workplaces, community collaboration, social impact and supporting materials. The following criteria and weighted scores are used by reviewers to evaluate and rank proposals on a 0-10 point scale. (See APPLICATION QUESTIONS & APPENDIX D – REVIEW RUBRIC for additional information):

- Community Health and Wellness Excellence (40%): Evaluation of overall strategy and showcased program efforts towards community health and wellness. This will include a review of the community's strategy and program/project summary. Note the following:
 - Community wellness project that places an emphasis on increasing access to healthy eating and active living in low-income and/or communities of color in order to address health inequities will receive a higher score during the review process.
- Community Collaboration (20%): Engagement of leadership throughout the community is critical to healthy program efforts. A diverse collaboration across municipal leaders, workplace leaders, citizens, non-profits, public health leaders, Chambers of Commerce, school leaders and top community advocates can enhance a community to the next level. Evidence of involving various stakeholders and citizens to build a shared vision of community health is an important component of the review.
- Measurement (20%): The overall strategy and showcased program/project is tied to a measurement and evaluation plan. Notable outcomes are achieved as well as contributing to solving identified community challenges.
- Moving Forward (20%): The community utilizes lessons learned from implemented programs and measurement to date to plan for future program improvements. The explanation is based on sound evidence with a variety of stakeholder input.

The review process incorporates a variety of professional representatives from disciplinarians including: non-profit, community development health policy, public health, worksite wellness and economic development who will review, score and rank the application and support materials. Applicants will be notified via email in mid-November of the result of the Healthy Community award. All applicants should be aware that to be recognized, they must have a community representative present at November 30th at the LiveWell Summit to receive the award.
