Cross Cabinet Goals:

In addition to these goals, OEDIT is in collaboration with other departments within the State to align our goals with broader state goals. As a result of this collaboration, there are three Strategic Policy Initiatives that will take cross-agency effort and will positively affect Colorado's economy. OEDIT will incorporate these goals into our internal goals to ensure alignment and support in meeting these goals.

These three goals are aligned with our State vision of making Colorado the best place to start and grow a business:

1. Be the most connected state by ensuring all residents and businesses have access to affordable basic broadband and have the highest broadband capacity per capita;
2. Promote entrepreneurship and business growth by streamlining regulations and making government business services and requirements easier to navigate;
3. Increase travel time reliability in three corridors: I-25 (from north C470 to south C470); I-70 (from Vail to C470); US 36.

Advanced Industries (AI)

Mission:

Turning Colorado's research and development strengths into new companies, jobs and products, Advanced Industries (AI) are a prime driver of the U.S. and Colorado economies, comprised of engineering and R&D intensive companies that deliver products and services in industries ranging from aerospace to medical devices. Colorado's advanced industries include: Aerospace, Advanced Manufacturing, Bioscience, Electronics, Energy, Infrastructure Engineering and Technology and Information.

Major Program Descriptions:

The AI Accelerator Program was created in 2013 to promote growth and sustainability in these industries by helping drive innovation, accelerate commercialization, encourage public-private partnerships, increase access to early stage capital and create a strong ecosystem that increases the state's global competitiveness. There are three types of grants within the program:

Proof-of-Concept Grant - Research performed at Colorado research institutions, including universities and federal laboratories operating in the state will be eligible for grants in the amount of up to $150,000. Preference for these projects focuses on technologies that cut across multiple advanced industries and across multiple research institutions. Matching funds shall be 3 (state) to 1 (institution).

Early Stage Capital & Retention Grants - These early state grants require that at least 50 percent of employees are based in Colorado, with less than $10 million in annual revenues and less than $20 million raised from investors. Grants in this form can be up to $250,000 and preference is given to companies that provide services or products across multiple advanced industries. Such companies may qualify for funding in excess of $250,000. Matching funds shall be 1 (state) to 2 (private).

Infrastructure Funding - Infrastructure grant size is limited to $500,000 and preference given to those projects that focus on technology or product development that cut across multiple advanced industries and across multiple research institutions. Such collaborative projects may qualify for a grant amount above the $500,000 limit. Matching funds shall be 1 (state) to 2 (non-state) and preference will be given to research and development, production and commercialization facilities and workforce development.

As one of the newest programs initiated at OEDIT, the Advanced Industries Division will attract and facilitate new Advanced Industries in Colorado including start-ups to create new jobs. AI will build customer relationships and connect stakeholders within the Advanced Industries sectors. Deployment of funding to AI companies to attract, retain and expand businesses will be a key strategy. Creating and marketing a stronger Colorado Brand will be supported by communicating and educating stakeholders about the new AI programs. To cultivate innovation and technology, the AI programs and strategy will be fully developed and deployed and AI will secure federal funds to further AI in Colorado.

National Network of Manufacturing Innovation (NNMI) Institutes:

Mission:

President Obama has proposed building the National Network for Manufacturing Innovation (NNMI), which will consist of regional hubs that will accelerate development and adoption of cutting-edge manufacturing technologies for making new, globally competitive products. Over the last two years, he has acted to jumpstart the network by launching four innovation hubs and initiating the establishment of four more, all by executive order while awaiting congressional action.

Individually and together, these regional hubs—public-private partnerships called Institutes for Manufacturing Innovation (IMIs)—will help to strengthen the global competitiveness of existing U.S. manufacturers, spur new ventures, and boost local and state economies.

Colorado is using funding from the infrastructure section of the Advanced Industries grant to fund three initiatives out of the NNMI initiative.

Major Program Descriptions:

The Digital Lab (Formerly DMDI): In February of 2014, the President announced the selection for this $70 million award to develop a digital manufacturing institute. OEDIT in collaboration with the University of Colorado was a major partner in this proposal and committed up to $5 million of funding for Colorado focused projects. OEDIT has a seat on this technical advisory committee and played a role in the selection of the first three projects announced in September of 2014.

American Lightweight Materials Manufacturing Innovation Institute (ALMMII, Formerly LM3I): In February of 2014, the President announced the selection for this $70 million award to develop a digital manufacturing institute. OEDIT in collaboration with the Colorado School of Mines was a major partner in this proposal and committed up to $5 million of funding for Colorado focused projects. The organization of this institute is still in development, and initial projects are scheduled to be announced before the end of 2014.

Clean Energy Manufacturing Innovation Institute for Composites Materials and Structures (Composites Institute): In partnership with NREL and four other states, Colorado submitted a proposal for this manufacturing institute. The US Department of Energy has committed $70 million in funding to the implementation of the winning proposal. Colorado has been selected as a finalist and the final decision is expected by the end of November 2014.

Investing in Manufacturing Community Partnership (IMCP):

Mission:

Because we see that Advanced Manufacturing will be a key sector that will affect job growth and economic growth in the coming years, it is OEDIT's goal to partner with industry leaders to ensure that we have both the equipment and the human capital to meet the needs of industry.

Major Program Descriptions:

EDA AI Assessment and Roadmap: In 2014, OEDIT was awarded a $250,000 planning grant to provide a statewide analysis of the Advanced Industry ecosystem and strategic development plan. This project is currently underway in partnership with Pricewaterhouse Coopers and will be completed in December of 2014.

"Manufacturing Communities" Designation: In coordination with Advanced Industry stakeholders from across the state, OEDIT submitted a proposal to the EDA for designation as a "manufacturing community". This was not a funding opportunity. Rather, it offered preference for future federal opportunities from multiple federal agencies. Despite not being designated, the submission of this proposal directly led to the successful pursuit of federal funding through the Department of Defense.

Strengthening Manufacturing by Accelerating Research and Technology (SMART)

Mission:

Last year, the state of Colorado applied for a grant from the Office of Economic Adjustment in the Department of Defense that would help provide strategic direction to companies that might be affected by a downturn in defense spending. In September, OEDIT received $6.6 million dollars in funding for the advancement of Strengthening Manufacturing by Accelerating Research and Technology (SMART).

Major Program Description:

OEDIT will work with the Colorado Advanced Manufacturing Alliance (CAMA) to use these funds over the next two years to make Colorado the leading state in advanced manufacturing. We have outlined several goals to help us get there. For example, we will create a supply chain map, which will help us understand where all of our resources are across the state, from community colleges that are training the workforce of tomorrow to the factories that employing state of the art manufacturing techniques. We are going to set up SMART centers in Denver and here in Colorado Springs that will provide equipment and mentoring for burgeoning businesses. An executive committee made up of leaders from industry, academia and government will oversee the project to make sure that the goals are being met.

Colorado Innovation Network (COIN)

Vision:

The vision of COIN is to help Colorado become the most innovative state in the nation.

Mission:

COIN is a catalyst for economic prosperity through innovation by partnering with government, business and civil society to foster collaboration around global ideas, talent, capital and the entrepreneurial spirit.

Major Program Descriptions:

Colorado Innovation Summit: The annual COIN Summit brings together 300+ high-level leaders from across the state and around the globe for the two-day event focused on the exchanging of ideas around innovation. The Summit encourages relationship building and inspires collaboration and new ways of thinking. The Summit serves as a place to highlight Colorado's innovation ecosystem, build the business and talent pipeline, share best practices and build a global network of innovation leaders. COIN also partners on statewide cross-industry events throughout the year.

Colorado Innovation Report: The Innovation Report gives Colorado a true measure of the state's industry-driven and overall innovation progress. The Report evaluates innovation in Colorado across a framework of talent, ideas, capital and entrepreneurship and benchmarks Colorado against nine peer states and the nation. Moving forward, the annual report will help us continue to educate businesses, investors, researchers, policymakers and others about the state's innovation activity. The 2015 report will focus specifically on Talent, exploring the challenges and opportunities our Colorado community experiences with respect to workforce of the future.

Strategies:

COIN is a privately funded organization that resides within OEDIT. COIN continues to lead and collaborate on programs, events, and initiatives that will impact Colorado's innovation ecosystem. COIN partners with organizations and individuals to study key drivers and inhibitors of innovation and deliver programs and initiatives that will make an impact. COIN focuses on goals around building Colorado's innovation brand, supporting economic growth, encouraging collaboration, creating and fostering a physical and virtual network for global innovation leaders and incubating new ideas.
