SUMMARY
OEDIT MISSION

By growing our economy with jobs that cannot be outsourced, employee owned business creation and infrastructure to enable entrepreneurship in all parts of the state, we strive to grow a resilient economy where everyone not only gets by, but thrives.

OEDIT VISION

Advance a thriving Colorado economy through:

1. Innovation: through innovative and bold ideas, we will work to advance our economy to ensure more Coloradans benefit from the state’s economic growth. We will seek out and welcome investments in emerging technologies that will spur growth, as well as in the infrastructure needed to support it.

2. Collaboration: by working collaboratively not only across OEDIT divisions but across state agencies, we will implement more effective long-term plans for a diverse and robust economy that upholds Colorado’s values.

3. Positioning Colorado as the nation’s #1 economic leader: due to Colorado’s diverse and innovative economy we continue to rank #1 in the country. In addition, our geographic location and top international airport positions us as a gateway to the U.S.—and provides certainty of future global opportunities.

AGENCY DESCRIPTION

The Colorado Office of Economic Development and International Trade (OEDIT) works with statewide partners to create a positive business climate that encourages dynamic economic development and sustainable job growth. Under the leadership of Governor Jared Polis, we strive to advance the state’s economy through financial and technical assistance in support of local and regional economic development activities throughout Colorado.

We assist in:

▶ Building a strong public-private approach on a statewide basis for economic development activities
▶ Monitoring economic conditions throughout the state and strengthening regional economies
▶ Supporting entrepreneurs and small businesses
▶ Increasing quality job creation by expanding and attracting businesses
▶ Maintaining Colorado’s diverse economic base by retaining existing jobs through responsive programs and a supportive business climate
▶ Positioning Colorado as a global leader in key industries, such as tourism, aerospace, bioscience and renewable energy
▶ Assisting the state’s economy, while preserving quality of life

We offer a host of programs and services tailored to support business development at every level including business retention services, business relocation services, and business funding and incentives. Our office includes the Global Business Development division; Colorado Tourism Office; Colorado Outdoor Recreation Industry Office; Colorado Creative Industries; Business Financing & Incentives division; the Colorado Small Business Development Network; Colorado Office of Film, TV & Media; and the Minority Business Office.
ENVIRONMENT

Colorado ranks amongst the fastest growing states in population, employment, and GDP in the nation.

Colorado’s population has grown nearly 16% since 2009.

Total employment in the state has grown by over 22%, since 2009 and is now at 3.1 million workers.

The unemployment rate is near an all-time low at 3.4%.

Real median household income has risen 14% to over $69,000 since 2011. At the national level this figure is just over $60,000.

Colorado’s economy has outperformed the nation each year, since 2012, by an average margin of over 1 percentage point. On average, real GDP, which (like real median income) adjust for inflation, grew at 3.5% per year on average.

Despite Colorado’s impressive growth in key economic metrics, there is a growing populous sentiment that residents’ lives have improved little. One likely explanation for this sentiment is the extreme rise in home values (and sale prices) that Colorado has seen over the last few years, which has eroded affordability of housing and consequently disposable income. While the real median income addresses inflation in consumer items, it does not address rising housing costs. Another explanation may be that development tends to concentrate in the largest cities, while rural areas tend to be left behind. Outside of the major urban areas of the Front Range, much industry and employment is in cattle, oil and gas extraction, and hospitality and recreation. Much of the growth since 2012, has been concentrated in the higher-value added manufacturing and services within the urban areas (specifically software and IT, computer and electronics manufacturing, and professional and business services). These issues are not unique to Colorado, but our current Administration is taking significant steps to address them and may be an example for the nation.

ECONOMY

Colorado has one of the fastest growing economies in the country. Governor Polis’ priority is to foster an economy that works for everyone and protects what makes Colorado the best state in the country to live, work, start a business, raise a family, and retire.

How does this connect to OEDIT?

- Growing our economy through good-paying jobs that can never be outsourced, employee-owned business creation, and infrastructure to enable entrepreneurship in all parts of the state in order to safeguard our Colorado way of life and ensure more Coloradans benefit from the state’s economic growth.
- Expand access to broadband services, ensure equal pay for equal work, and support our tradition of farming and ranching with the tools needed in a 21st century economy.
- Implementing policies that distribute tax break benefits fairly.
- Grow a resilient economy where everyone not only gets by, but thrives. We will implement better long-term planning for a diverse and robust economy.

RENEWABLE ENERGY

Leading the statewide transition to 100% renewable energy by 2040 is imperative for our climate, our security, our health, our wallets, our economy, and the Colorado way of life.

How does this connect to OEDIT?

- Warming temperatures are already impacting our state in many ways, from a shorter ski season, to a dwindling water supply, to an agriculture sector struggling to raise crops and livestock through more frequent droughts and natural disasters.
- Work with stakeholders across Colorado to promote innovation in renewable energy to reduce emissions, reduce consumer costs, and create jobs and economic opportunity across our state.
- As we embrace the renewable energy future, we must also do right by all the men and women in today’s energy workforce. These workers skills and hard work will be essential in the transition to renewable energy, and we will support these workers and their communities to ensure they continue to thrive in the renewable energy economy.

EDUCATION

Colorado has a unique opportunity to fund free full-day Kindergarten, which will benefit students, parents, districts and our economy.

How does this connect to OEDIT?

- Parents will save money on tuition and/or child care; some families pay up to $500 for tuition and even more for child care.
- Parents can return to full-time work more quickly, increasing family incomes.
- Families will have more income/room in the budget to spend on goods & services.
- Higher student achievement will produce greater economic gains and save taxpayers money in the long run.
- An improved education system can help attract and retain talented workers.

GOVERNOR’S DASHBOARD: BOLD 4 INITIATIVES

HEALTH

Coloradoans are getting ripped off on health care costs. We have a number of proposals to save families money and keep Colorado healthy.

How does this connect to OEDIT?

- We contribute to this priority less at the high level, and more on the peripheral/micro level by promoting the work of other agencies and promoting a healthy lifestyle through outdoor recreation activities.
- Promote efforts of the Health Cross Cabinet Working Group with the business community, and share tools with the business community that are designed to provide access to, and reduce the cost of healthcare.
- Connect the Office of Saving People Money on Health Care with the business community.
